

Jeff “Odie” Espenship Introduction

Our guest speaker is Jeff “Odie” Espenship

Odie’s company directly targets leadership and employee groups to create and maintain a culture of operational excellence in the workplace.

Odie’s background in operational excellence began as a USAF fighter pilot, flight leader, and instructor pilot. The successes and failures Odie has learned flying high performance jets can be applied directly to the “fighter pilots” of _____ .
(Company name)

Although Odie no longer flies in the military, he continues to hone his flight skills as an international airline pilot, flying the Boeing 767.

Odie’s Target Leadership message has been given to numerous corporations throughout the country. He has become a world renowned speaker of the highest magnitude; his keynotes are now sought by every industry in the country. He also writes his own introductions.

Ladies and Gentlemen, please welcome Jeff “Odie” Espenship
